

DON'T MISS A BEAT!

THE 2003 WORLD COMPUTER and INTERNET LAW CONGRESS™

A Unique World Class Legal Summit Focusing on Practical, "Take-Home" Advice and Guidance by Top Information Technology Experts

What You and Your Clients Truly Need to Know to Effectively Conduct Business in Today's Global Marketplace

For 2003, the world's premiere global information technology law summit and conference will be uniquely focused on practical advice and best of class strategies! The Congress is a "must attend" for outside and inside counsel, consultants, and business, financial, and information technology executives and professionals. It will focus upon proven strategies and best practices for dealing effectively with today's issues and tomorrow's problems.

The Congress will provide practical "hands on" strategies for managing risk relating to, among others:

- Doing business on the Internet
- New virtual workplace employment issues
- Making electronic agreements enforceable worldwide
- New tax liabilities
- Offshoring the ownership of intellectual property
- Internet advertising
- Recent intellectual property developments
- New or imminent laws, rules, and regulations, and other "hot" topics.
- Transactions involving key IT and internet law issues

Reduced rate registration fees end March 17, 2003 – register now and save! Discounted hotel rates and airfare are available. See details at www.cla.org.

May 1–2, 2003 • Washington DC

If you plan to attend any conference this year, THIS IS THE ONE. The faculty is world class in every respect. The program and materials will be packed with valuable practical information. It will be the most important networking event in recent years for the worldwide information technology community. DON'T MISS IT. Please join us at The Fairmont Washington Hotel, 24th and M Streets, NW, Washington, DC.

Presented by The Computer Law Association

in affiliation with:

The Federal Communications Bar Association
The Computer and Telecommunications Section of the D.C. Bar
The D.C. Computer Law Forum
International Federation of Computer Law Associations

Call 703-560-7747, or visit our web site at www.cla.org for more information.